

Zev Suissa, MBA, is an award-winning producer and innovator, leading strategic imagination for big brands, publishers and growth companies. In his role as Chief Strategy & Innovation Officer at Wondr Health, Suissa is leveraging the best practices of engagement strategy, data-driven content production and partnership value creation for large corporate, government and health plan clients to deliver proven digital behavior change programs for the whole person.